

Case Study: Pantellos RFX Management's Easy Integration Meets TXU's Business Needs

A utility with a true commitment to achieving supply chain efficiency with the best up-to-date solutions, TXU was able to easily standardize the bid management process across all of their departments with Pantellos RFX Management.

Opportunity

Always looking for ways to further improve their supply chain, TXU realized it needed to address their fragmented and labor-intensive bid management services. The utility was seeking a procurement solution that could be smoothly implemented as part of a larger project to streamline and update processes across their Fossil Generation, Transmission and Distribution, Power Generation, Nuclear and Corporate divisions. Furthermore, TXU wanted to utilize a system that would keep them current with today's technology.

Solution

TXU chose to use Pantellos RFX Management because it could tackle the utility's bid management challenges. As a Web-based sourcing tool that automates the RFI, RFP and RFQ processes, Pantellos RFX Management provides a single communication forum for bid participants and creates greater efficiency through less paperwork. RFX Management could be quickly and simply implemented across TXU's business units because no software or re-configuration of existing hardware is required. Furthermore, the tool is easy to use while providing a cutting-edge electronic sourcing solution for the utility.

Results

After conducting five short training sessions, TXU's Fossil Generation, Transmission and Distribution, Power Generation, Nuclear and Corporate divisions were able to deploy the entire RFX automated bid management system in just two months. Already, the utility reports that RFX Management has significantly increased efficiency through a paperless bid management system and that they foresee their savings compounding over the long term.

"Our goal at TXU was to find a bid management solution that could quickly be applied across all of the company's business units. Not only does the tool offer a better documentation process, but Pantellos RFX Management is simple to integrate and easy for our employees to use."
