

Robert Lutz, Vice President, Product Management and Chief Technology Officer

Bob Lutz oversees the development and delivery of Pantellos supply chain consulting, supply management, e-procurement, services management, and e-settlement solutions. He brings to this role more than 20 years of software, technology, e-commerce, energy industry, Six Sigma and leadership experience.

Before joining Pantellos, Lutz was Eastern region sales director at Software AG, a leading provider of system and application integration solutions. Lutz has also held several different managerial positions with GE Global eXchange Services (formerly GEIS), a leading provider of B2B e-commerce services and supply chain solutions. His additional technology and energy experience comes from managerial positions at Utility Partners, Keane, Inc. and TECO Energy, Inc., where he led product development and management IT initiatives primarily for utility and related markets.

Lutz holds an MBA from the University of South Florida and a bachelor's degree in chemistry from Clarion University of Pennsylvania.
